

>> Round 1 <<

News And Trivia

1/ Which bonkers billionaire is telling the world he's named his newborn child X Æ A-12?

Elon Musk

2/ Boris Johnson has also just welcomed his sixth official child into the world. What name has the child been given?

Wilfred

3/ Donald Trump took a trip round a mask-making factory in Arizona this week, in the height of the global pandemic, without wearing one of the masks himself – as which song was blasted out?

a/ Found A Cure by Ashford and Simpson

b/ Bad Case Of Lovin' You (Doctor Doctor) by Robert Palmer

c/ Live And Let Die by Wings

4/ TRUE OR FALSE: Sir Michael Palin made his name as a travel presenter with the famous BBC series Around The World In 80 Days – but he only ended up being offered the job because Noel Edmonds turned it down...

True

5/ Who has become Vogue's oldest cover star at the age of 85?

Judi Dench

6/ Amanda Holden is set to have her first chart hit this week with a cover of what?

Over The Rainbow

7/ Michael Gove got in a bit of hot water when his wife, Sarah Vine, tweeted pictures of his bookshelf to show a surprising number of books by Holocaust deniers and eugenicists. But which other book was visible?

a/ Men Are From Mars, Women Are From Venus by John Gray

b/ The Art Of the Deal by Donald J Trump

c/ How Michael Gove Saves the World by C. J. Wilmann

8/ A Canadian photographer says that Meghan Markle had a rule that she would never allow photos to be taken of which part of her body?

Her feet

9/ TRUE OR FALSE: Channel 4 have commissioned a TV show in which cameras are fastened to celebrity pets, so that we can watch what they get up to all day around the house. The show is called "Snoop Dogs".

True

10/ Captain Tom Moore and Michael Ball had quite a fall from the top of the charts last week, dropping from number one right out of the Top Ten completely. What chart position did they land in?

(Two points if you get it exactly right; one point for two places either side)

21 (for two points)

19, 20, 22, 23 (for one point)